REAL ESTATE AGENCIES

The real estate agencies listed below have indicated their interest in assisting the Harvard University community to locate housing. Some may charge a broker's fee. Be sure to ask about the fee amount, whether it is negotiable, and when it must be paid.

Most landlords require a lease and may ask for first and last month's rent, as well as a security deposit. Make certain you read the lease carefully before signing it. It is a legally binding document, and you should clearly understand the terms and conditions to which you are committing yourself.

The Harvard Housing Office does not endorse any specific agency.
